If you do not wish your child/ren to be part of this assembly please pick them up between 12.45 and 1.45. Please sign them out at the office.

If you are attending there will be seating at the back of the hall for adults and whanau, however, if you wish to sit with your child, we invite you to join them in their class lines on the mats.

2020 Planning- Next week we will send home a survey (hard copy) and e-mail out a link to the same survey. This is gathering your thoughts and opinions so we can develop our annual plan (things we are focusing on) for 2020.

The hard copy survey will have a random number attached for you to input into the online survey or cut off and keep if you are returning the hard copy. This number is your individual number and your entry into the prize draw for one of 3 pak'n'save vouchers if you take part in the survey. Check your child's bag and your email next week.

E-mail Addresses- If you have not been receiving our newsletter and other reminders by email, we may not have your current email address on our system. Here's what our student leaders had to say about our school this week in their tamariki panui...Thank you Blake Hooton who captured our tamariki's voices.

Junior School

Room 7 have been doing painting, of butterflies with chalk and normal paint, with their buddy class Rm 14. They have also been busy with play based learning and solving provocations. They had a competition with the best drawing of our new principal Mr Talyor that was judged by their Teacher Miss Devonport. Cameron was the one that was chosen to see Mr Taylor.

Middle School

Room 12 they made a green screen video. Each child dressed up in a funkey, groovy costume and struck a pose in front of the green screen. They have made happy similes in favor of Mrs Seamer, they were representing anything yellow like, bananas and stars. They are also going to the trout hatchery this Thursday. Hope you have fun room 12.

Senior School

Room 17 have being doing writing in a different way...they have taken fairy tales like the Three Little Pigs and have written as if the opposite happened. So, in the Three Little Pigs the Pigs ate the wolf. The senior school have continued with their electives. Electives are a way for each teacher to do any subject and elaborate on it. In room 17 they have had a challenge. They had to make a tower out of paper cups and place different weighted objects on the top to see if it was sturdy enough.

Thanks to...Eli and Poppy in Rm 17, Cameron and Molly in Rm 7, and Broklyn and Deneka in Rm 12.
